Simplify the complex with an enhanced user experience.

When you aggregate multiple programs and multiple platforms from multiple vendors into a single view, it's easy for your people to use their benefits and make informed decisions for their physical, financial, and professional wellbeing.

Here are a few of our stories.

Case study 1

Total rewards hub

Situation

A pharmaceutical company wanted to help employees better utilize their total rewards, make informed health and wealth decisions, and improve overall wellbeing. We deployed our total rewards portal to help employees understand the total value of their compensation and benefits.

Results

The new total rewards portal exceeded benchmarks for employees' understanding of their benefits and meeting their needs, earning "Best Employer for Healthy Lifestyles" recognition. Most important, employees rated their experiences extremely high, exceeding 9 of 10 across key metrics.

Case study 2

Decision support and modeling

Situation

With a broad array of plan choices, our client needed a way to simplify the benefit selection process for employees across different groups. We implemented a user-friendly, mobile-based benefits quiz that helped employees assess their health and wealth plan options and identify their individual needs and risk tolerance, and then presented recommendations based on each employee's personal needs.

Results

The tool soft-launched during open enrollment without a separate communication campaign, resulting in engagement of 5,500 unique users — 1/3 of its population.
